Temporary Pause in Posting of Goldman Sachs Issues

by Mike Morgan | 10:30 AM in | comments \(29\)

This website has NOT been approved by Goldman Sachs. This website was designed to provide information about Goldman Sachs to demonstrate how destructive this company is to our lives.

June 15, 2009 - It's been just three and a half weeks since my quadruple bypass surgery. I'm doing GREAT and back to work, but I still have a hold on this website. We are in court with Goldman Sachs, and their attorneys are playing games. Until we get a judge's ruling on this website, we are going to keep things on hold for this website. For now, sign up for the email updates, as we will notify everyone once we get the ruling and return to our website objectives. Stay tuned for details because we have a few surprises for Goldman Sachs and specifically Lord Blaneifein once we return to publishing on this site. If you're interested involunteering, please email me Mike@Morgan7.com

May 30, 2009 - Those of you who did not know, I had a heart attack and underwent bypass heart surgery. I am resting and taking it easy. I will update everyone once I start to feel better. If anyone has questions, please contact David Good at David@Morgan7.com.

May 15, 2009 - I apologize to those that were expecting a great deal more post on this website. I have held back because of my pending Complaint against Goldman Sachs in the United States District Court. I want to let the judge rule on my Complaint before moving forward with some of the features of this website.

This week Goldman Sachs attorneys failed to coordinate a stipulation agreement, so now we will move forward with our Complaint in the United States District Court. Until we get the judge's ruling on our website, I am not going to post. One reason, is that I simply don't want to give the army of Goldman Sachs attorneys dozens of posts, links and posted information that they will use to drag out this lawsuit indefinitely. I want the judge to rule on the merits, and once that is done, we will move forward.

The judge has already set dates for pre-trial issues, so we expect this to move quickly. I'd recommend everyone sign up for our email update list to the right of this post. Once the case is resolved we will send out an email to everyone, and we will move forward with this website.

Volunteers - Please contact me if you have time to do a bit of research or want to assist in posting, compiling, etc. Mike@Morgan7.com

Trade Alert - Oil and Gas Paired Trade

by Mike Morgan | 1:35 PM in Oil and Gas | comments \(0\)

We are going to make a change in our paired energy trade. We are going to cover our short Oil position, but we are going to hold our long Gas position. We shorted USO on Friday at $38.70 and we covered at $38.20 for about tiny profit.

However, we went long UNG at $14.62 on Friday and it is trading at $15.47 for a decent profit. We are going to hold this position.
